

Brian Holman

Brian is a highly respected and sought after motivational speaker. He and his family know the pain of personal loss and have overcome great adversity. Brian uses his life experiences to encourage and inspire a host of audiences. His inspirational messages combined with stories from his MLB playing days have had a tremendous impact when shared at churches, youth-family and men's outreach conferences, sports awards banquets, and corporate events across the United States and Canada.

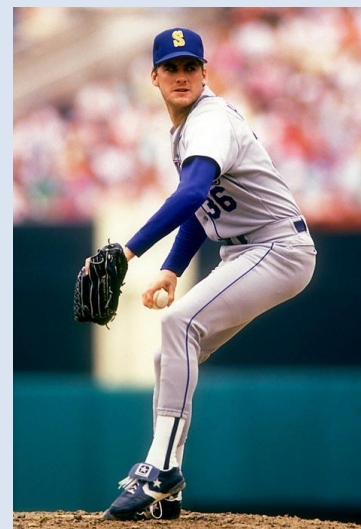

After a successful Major League Baseball career with the Montreal Expos, the Seattle Mariners, and the Cincinnati Reds, Brian was forced to retire due to an arm injury.

Involved with many charitable organizations, Brian currently serves on the board of directors for the Kansas City Metro and the Missouri State chapter of The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Character that Counts, and Keepers of the Sandlot. Additionally Brian supports Young Life, Pro Athletes Outreach, Children's Hospital, The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, and The National Christian Foundation.

Brian enjoys coaching baseball, upland bird hunting, fishing, weight lifting, and collecting vintage baseball memorabilia. In 2007, he was inducted into the Kansas Baseball Hall of Fame along with Joe Carter, Bill James, and Phil Stephenson.

Shortly after reaching the big leagues, Holman's wife Jami became a Christian and Brian was then led to the Lord as well. His faith in Christ would provide him with the foundation that he needed to keep him steady through life's trials.
