

Duane Ward

Duane had 10 seasons of Major League baseball where all but one year was with the Toronto Blue Jays; the other was with the Atlanta Braves.

Primarily a reliever his whole career Duane added strength and durability to an already solid Toronto Blue Jay bullpen. His career was shortened due to injuries, but Duane still compiled a career 3.28 ERA, pitching in over 450 Games, achieving 121 saves. Still, he is among the leaders on the Blue Jay's all-time list in several pitching categories.:

- * Two-Time Labatt's Most Valuable Pitcher - 1991 & 1993.
- * Two Time Toronto BBWAA Pitcher of the Year 1991 & 1993.
- * Baseball America All-Star Team - 1993.
- * American League All-Star Team - 1993.
- * Rolands Relief Award - 1993.

Duane is also one of several Blue Jays to have had the honor of playing on back to back World Championship Teams in 1992 & 1993.
